The points for placement are then multiplied by the number of wrestlers in the athlete's weight. Disqualifications will result in lost team points (5-point deduction per disqualification). Team applications may be submitted by any participating team, even those with less than 10 qualifying wrestlers, so long as the mat official requirements are met. Teams may not use wrestlers from other team to fill in empty division slots. No changes or additions are allowed after submission. Wrestlers must be correctly classified by division and weight class for points to be awarded.
